5) File leading to the issue of G.O. No. H. 372/S&A dt. 3.7.26 dt 20-7-1904 on the strength of which mir mohamed Ghouse Razvi the petitioner is drawing a pension of Rs 20/- P.M. is put up below flagged L. It is seen from the G.O. that the petitioner derived the pension from his mother Azmathunnissa Begum who was the great grand daughter of Mr. Gulam Ali the original grantee of the pension. The family history of the petitioner is set forth in paras 3 to 6 of the notes in S&A file 39 A. of 1904.

6) The petitioner is in receipt of a pension of Rs 20/- P.M. as the eldest son of his mother Azmathunnissa Begum for the support of himself, and his brother mir mohideen Badshaw & his two sisters Amtullla Begum & Bathulla Begum. As his brother mir mohideen Badshaw referred to above died on 14th 1939 he has reported that his deceased brother's share of the pension will be paid to the widow of the deceased for the maintenance of herself & her children.

7) As the distribution of the pension among the family members is an internal arrangement of ~~with which Govt has nothing~~ which Govt need not take any cognisance, the petition may perhaps be sent to the comptroller ~~for disposal~~. Subd for orders.

Kind reference is invited to paras 5 & 6 of the note for the facts of the case.

13 The pension of Rs 20/- that is being drawn by the petitioner is a life grant (it was a life grant even to his mother Azmathunnissa Begum but it was continued to the petitioner & his brother & sisters as a matter of concession) and should lapse to Govt on the demise of the beneficiaries. In this case Mir Mohideen Badsha was one of the parties who was being benefited by the pension & on his death the amount that was being paid to him by the head baraawardar should lapse to Govt strictly speaking. It is for orders as to whether the entire pension be continued to be paid during the life time of the headbaraawardar or whether the pension that was being paid to the deceased be lapsed to Govt.

15 In G.O. d. 20.7.1904, a life pension of Rs 20 pm that was being enjoyed by Azmathunissa Begum, was continued "in the name of her eldest son Mir Md. Ghouse Sahib Razvi .. for the support of her husband, her 3rd son (Mir Mohidin Badsha) and her two daughter (Amthulla Begam & Bathulla Begam".

16 The Barawardar Mir Md Ghouse is still living, and he reports that Mir Mohidin Badsha — one of the persons for whose support the pension was granted — died on 14.2.1939 and that his share of the pension will be paid to the widow of the deceased.

17 A lumpsum of Rs 20/- was granted to the head of the family for the support of four members of the family & no apportionment was made as between them. One of these is reported to have died. An enquiry may in the first instance be made as to which of the other 3 are living. (no apportionment of the pension can be recognised by Govt.)

VS In a G.O. dated 10th June 1901, a life pension of Rs 20 was sanctioned to Azmathunissa Begum, out of a pension of Rs 72-4-0 that was being drawn by her father Hajee Gulam Dastagiri. On the death of Azmathunissa Begum in 1902, the pension of Rs 20 drawn by her was in G.O. d. 20.7.1904 continued in the name of her eldest son Mir Md Ghouse Razvi for the support of her husband, her 3rd son (Mir Mohideen Badshah) and two daughters (Anthulla Begum & Bathulla Begam).

WD 0544—GPB—30,000—2-9-38

2b It is thus seen that Mir Md Ghouse Razvi, the Barawardar, was given the pension of Rs 20 for the support of four members of the family referred to. Enquiries have elicited the fact that of these four members —

(1) the husband of Azmathunnissa Begum died in 1909

(2) the daughter Amthulla Begum died in 1906

(3) the Son Mir Mohiyuddin Sahba died recently in Feb. 39.

The Barawardar in intimating the death of (3), has added that the pension amount that was being paid to him would be paid to his widow (who has 2 Sons & 2 daughters). It is also stated that the death of (1) & (2) were intimated to Govt. at the time, that the share of (1) is being distributed among the other recipients and that the share (2) is being distributed to her children.

No papers could be traced to bear this out.

2) The pension of the original holder Azmathunnissa Begum was itself a life grant. It was specially continued for the specific support of 4 members that were dependant on her in the name of Md Ghouse Razvi.

Petition of Mir Mahomed Ghouse Razvi

Serial No.

A | It cannot be the intention that the barawardar can go on paying the shares of the deceased members to their children automatically and Govt cannot take cognizance of any such private arrangements.

B | The point for consideration is whether, as 3 out of the 4 members for whose support the pension was granted ~~have~~ are now dead, the full pension of Rs 20 may be continued. As the pension is granted in name of Mir MG Ghouse and no conditions have been mentioned in the G.O, it is difficult to watch the changes in the family so long as the barawardar is living. (The question will ~~also~~ arise for decision when the present barawardar dies, or when the remaining 4th recipient also dies)

30 A pension of Rs 20/- a month was originally granted to Azmathunnisa Begum during her life. After her death, her brother claimed that the pension may be continued to her; but his claim was rejected on a recommendation of the Collector of Chittoor vide Arzi in view of the circumstances of the family, the pension was ordered to be continued for the benefit of the deceased's husband, and her third son and two daughters. From the order passed in that connection (See flag L) it is clear that the pension was intended to be personal to the grantee and was not intended to be hereditary. This will also be apparent from the fact that even the grant of pension to Azmathunnisa Begum was ordered to be operative only during her life time. It follows therefore that after the death of the beneficiaries, their heirs have cannot claim the pension as a matter of right. Now that three out of four beneficiaries are dead, the survivor does not seem to be entitled to the full pension. It is open to the Govt to fix the share payable to her during her life time.

This is a very peculiar case. Government ~~have~~ granted pension to Mr. Mir Mohamed Ghouse Razvi on behalf of his father and 3 other members of his family. The pension to the previous grantee was only a life grant and the pension is not meant to be passed on to the heirs of the beneficiary. It is therefore operative only during the lifetime of the several beneficiaries. Some of the beneficiaries are now dead and somehow or other, because Government had no information on this point and the Barawardar is alive, the old rate of pension is being paid to him. I do not think it would be right or proper now to depart from the terms of the old order and recognise any sub-division of the pension and payment of the same by the barawardar to the survivors or heirs of the deceased beneficiaries. I would therefore suggest that the pension be continued at the present rate to the present Barawardar only so long as at least one of the original beneficiaries ~~are~~ do living and that it should lapse to Government after the death of all these beneficiaries.

The Barawardar must be asked to certify at the time of drawing the pension which of the beneficiaries is living. He may also be informed that Government cannot take cognisance of any payments made by him to the heirs of the deceased beneficiaries.

My father, late Mir Hyder Ali Saheb Razvi, husband of Azmath-un-issa Begum died in Madina in the year 1909. Soon after the news of his death were received here, I communicated the same to Government and have also informed that the portion of pension that was enjoyed by him will be distributed among the other persons who are named in G. My sister, Amthulla Begum who had accompanied her father, the husband of Azmath-un-issa Begum, also died at Madina in the end of the year 1906. Even this fact I communicated to Government and have also informed that she (Amthulla Begum) has left two sons and one daughter who were solely depending upon her and this portion that was being enjoyed by her is now utilising by her children.

Bathula Begum is still alive and she is enjoying her portion till this date.

I have intimated the death of my brother, Mir Mohiyeddeen Badshah Saheb Razvi in my letter dated 22nd February 1939. His wife who has no other means of living is depending entirely on this source of income, is in receipt of this portion of the pension that was being enjoyed by her husband.

Government are, however, pleased to direct that the pension be continued to be paid at the present rate of Rs.20/- to the barawardar Mr.Mir Mahomed Ghouse Razvi only so long as the one surviving beneficiary (Bathulla Begum) continues to be alive and that it should lapse to Government after her death.
